BISHOP ESTATE CLAIMS LAND

Pioneer Hotel Site At Lahaina Is In Dispute

The site of the Pioneer Hotel at Lahaina, Maui, is the subject of dispute between the Territorial Government and the trustees of the Bishop estate. The Government claims the property while the trustees of the estate are equally certain that they possess an equitable claim upon the hotel site.

A conference will be held during the course of the week in an effort to determine some basis of settlement or compromise. Acting Attorney General Lorrin Andrews will represent the Territory with probably a representative from the land bureau.

The land in dispute is known officially as the Pelekana land and the claim of the Bishop Estate is derived from Princess Victoria Kamae, who petitioned the Privy Council for the land as early as 1850, the request being refused on the ground that because of its historical associations the land should always remain in possession of the Government. The Bishop Estate ultimately acquired any rights that the Princess had in the property by reason of the early claims of ownership that were made.

CAPITALISTS FROM LONDON HERE

Financiers Profit by Brief Stay in Port

A party including a dozen or more among whom are several prominent financiers and business men of London, England, were given every opportunity today of receiving authentic information concerning the resources of Hawaii.

The delegation is traveling by the Canadian Australian liner Makura which arrived at the port early this morning from Sydney via Brisbane and Suva, en route to Vancouver.

The party includes several influential members of the London Chamber of Commerce. Their leader is Sir Alfred Spicer, the chairman of that organization, which is a powerful factor in commercial circles of the world's greatest metropolis.

During the brief stay of the Makura at Honolulu, the party employed their time to the best possible advantage in looking over the city and gaining information concerning the valuable resources of the Territory.

The members of the Chamber have been on a tour of inspection of the great Australian commonwealth. The cities of Melbourne, Sydney, Brisbane, Adelaide, Perth and other large business centers were visited by the financiers.

The party is en route to England and will journey through Canada.

WILHELMINA'S LATEST

LATEST PICTURE OF MATSON LINER WILHELMINA.

This is the latest photograph of the new Matson liner Wilhelmina taken while work was proceeding on her in the basin of the Newport News ship yards. According to recent reports the plans have been changed slightly so that the passenger capacity will be increased by a few staterooms. From San Francisco comes the report that the first trip of the steamer next February may be signalled by her bringing a large number of Shriners.

The Honolulu delegation who attended against the bows of the steamer bearing her name, was bestowed. As the new Matson liner glided down the water, flags were unfurled from many masts and neighboring whistles and sirens tooted in joyousness.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Tenney and Miss Wilhelmina Tenney were among the passengers of note to arrive by the good ship Lurline from San Francisco this morning.

The launching of the steamer from the yards at Newport News last September was in every way a success. The Tenneys were present and it was to Miss Tenney that the signal honor of crashing a bottle of sparkling vintage against the bows of the steamer was bestowed.

"I know nothing whatever about the matter," was the succinct response to a question propounded to Mr. Tenney on the deck of the Lurline as the vessel made fast to the Matson wharf this morning.

San Francisco Shriners declare that the party intend to visit Honolulu. It is claimed that they have been offered the exclusive use of the vessel at the rate of one hundred and twenty-five dollars a round trip for each excursionist. The Wilhelmina is now receiving her finishing touches and is expected to arrive at San Francisco and be ready to leave on her initial voyage to Honolulu the first part of February.

WORK PROCEEDING; NO INTERFERENCE

Chance Good For A Satisfactory Agreement

From the present outlook the Board of Supervisors will not interfere in any way with the work of the Mutual Telephone Company in laying its conduits. The work is progressing rapidly, and Treasurer Carter said this morning, would be pushed rapidly to completion. A duct is provided in the conduit for the city and county police and fire wires, and the Board will probably come to some agreement soon by which the Mutual will transfer the public wires with their own underground.

Mr. Carter said he looked for an amicable agreement soon, and he hoped that there would be no trouble or litigation over the matter. In case that came, it might not be for some time. Deputy County Attorney Milverton has made his decision in the matter and turned everything over to the Board. The Merchants' Association are now awaiting final developments, and the Supervisors are inclined to arbitrate on the basis of getting in the new automatic system as soon as possible.

O'DAY'S UNTRUTHS PLAINLY SHOWN

Physician Made Only One Trip To Molokai

The villifying statement on Hawaii and the administration of the leprosy problem in the Territory appearing in the Portland "Telegram," given as an interview with Dr. O'Day, late of Honolulu, is not received with great surprise by President Mott-Smith of the Board of Health and the members of the medical profession in Honolulu.

During his sojourn in Hawaii Dr. O'Day acquired a reputation that released him from any suspicion of being classed in the ranks of dependable and conservative physicians. Basing his claims upon the fortunate circumstance that he participated in the examination of ten persons who were later released under the operation of the law enacted by the last Legislature, Dr. O'Day has declared that he "started the crusade that is revealing dread Molokai Island, of the Hawaiian group, fouler with dishonor's stain than it has ever been with leprosy."

As a matter of fact O'Day has absolutely nothing to do with the bacteriological examination that resulted in the release of the ten persons from the Settlement. He did, however, express the opinion that they were not, at the time of examination, afflicted with the disease, the other physicians expressing a similar opinion at the same time.

Upon the results obtained O'Day immediately began to pose as the champion of the oppressed Hawaiians, and made a number of statements reflecting on the integrity and ability of the members of the Board of Health. When O'Day discovered that his charlatanism was not to be successful he found it wise to leave the islands and accordingly went to Portland, Mrs. Atchley declaring that he was forced to leave the Territory because he had expressed opinions contrary to those held by the members of the "doctors' trust."

"It seems almost unnecessary to characterize O'Day's statement as a miserable falsehood," said President Mott-Smith of the Board of Health, this morning. "His character and standing as a physician can best be determined by a consideration of the vicious terms of his statement. Such a man, if he is able to make a pretense of repute and standing as a physician can do much harm to the Territory."

President Mott-Smith believes that the best remedy at hand for preventing any weight being attached to the statement of O'Day is the throwing of some light on his activity during his (Continued on Page 8)
